

Gosforth Christmas Lights Trail 2026

Important Information & Disclaimer

By participating in the Daft as a Brush Christmas Lights Trail, you agree to the following:

- Participants are solely responsible for the installation, maintenance, operation and removal of their Christmas lights and decorations.
- All electrical equipment should be safely installed, appropriately maintained and used in accordance with manufacturer guidance.
- Daft as a Brush Cancer Patient Care accepts no liability for any injury, loss, damage, accident, electrical fault, fire, theft or incident arising from participation in the Christmas Lights Trail.
- Participants are responsible for ensuring displays do not create hazards, obstructions or nuisance to neighbours, visitors or members of the public.
- Visitors attend participating locations at their own risk and should remain on public pathways unless expressly invited onto private property by the homeowner.
- Participants agree to display the official Daft as a Brush Christmas Lights Trail sign and accompanying QR code in a visible location for the duration of the trail. The QR code may be linked to information about the event, donations, and/or charity information.
- Any official trail signage, QR codes or promotional materials supplied by Daft as a Brush are provided solely for participation in the Christmas Lights Trail and must not be sold, transferred, reproduced or used for commercial purposes.
- Daft as a Brush may photograph, film and promote participating properties as part of the Christmas Lights Trail and related marketing activities across print, digital, social media and press channels.
- Daft as a Brush reserves the right to remove a property from the trail or promotional materials where a display is considered unsafe, inappropriate or likely to bring the charity into disrepute.
- If you subsequently decide not to participate, please notify the charity as soon as possible.
- Participation in the Christmas Lights Trail constitutes acceptance of these terms and conditions.
